A FIGHT WITH ARABS.

A Beyrout paper gives the following particulars of a skirmish fought at Dnars, district of Mount-Knap, between the troops and the Bedouins of the Hauran and the Amoy, Shattah, and Gayath Arabs, who had committed a raid on the flocks of the Hauran. The combat took place towards the end of March, and the Bedouins, who were only 25 soldiers, obtained a reinforcement of 120 horsemen and started to attack the Bedouins. He fell on at their tents, and although taken unawares, they offered a lively resistance. The fight, however, did not last longer than an hour, and the Arabs fled, leaving fifteen dead on the field. The troops had only one man killed and one wounded. A thousand sheep had been taken, and the Bedouins were sent to Damascus, where they were distributed amongst their legitimate owners.
